3. Start early to prepare -- 90% of successful speaking is determined by how well you have thought through what you are going to say.
4. Make an outline that includes:
 - a. Introduction – start with something strong and relevant to get their attention (story, quote, fact)
 - b. Body – include what is important to your audience and how you can serve their needs as well as your credentials
 - c. Conclusion – summarize/reinforce the central theme and end with a clincher statement
5. Practice in front of the mirror, friends, parents, and the class. Effective speeches should never be read. Use notecards only for key points to keep you on task.
6. Deliver with purpose and power! The presentation is more important than the words spoken. First impressions are powerful, so dress appropriately and walk with crisp precision. Use good eye contact, posture, and hand gestures. Speak with conviction and enthusiasm. Vary the tone of your voice, rate, and volume. Speak clearly, enunciate and smile!
7. Stay relaxed! Manage nervousness by taking deep breaths prior to the speech, pause and smile at the audience before speaking, and limit caffeine prior to speaking.
8. Contact a current officer! The best resource in preparing for the credentialing process is to talk with a current HOSA, TA officer. They have a wealth of knowledge and experience to share!

As a Texas HOSA Officer, please uphold Texas HOSA-Future Health Professionals in all conduct, both online and offline, including with the use of social media.

Note: Social media should be broadly understood as any sites and services that permit users to share information with others in a digital manner. Social media platforms approved for Texas HOSA use include Facebook, Instagram, Twitter, YouTube, and online threads and blogs that may arise from use of social media.

The following principles apply:

1. Uphold Professionalism Online: Others associate you, and any opinions or personal information you disclose, with Texas HOSA-Future Health Professionals. Please ensure that all your social media profiles and activities are consistent with Texas HOSA's high standards of professional conduct as described in the Texas HOSA Officer Handbook. In addition:
 - a. Post in such a way that is representative of over 245,000 Future Health Professionals from 54 chartered associations across the US and around the world and consistent with HOSA's reputation as an impartial nonprofit organization.
 - b. In the virtual world as a Texas HOSA representative, dress and behave as you would at an official HOSA function.
 - c. Post meaningful, respectful comments. Avoid politics, controversial opinions, foul language, and rude remarks.
2. Champion HOSA: We ask during your time in office that you devote your time and energy to post content or discuss topics that are relevant to supporting the mission of HOSA-Future Health Professionals, which is: "To empower HOSA-Future Health Professionals to become leaders in the global health community through education, collaboration, and experience."
3. Ask: When in doubt about a post, tweet or other action on social networks, enlist a second pair of eyes, even at the cost of some delay. If you are about to publish something that makes you even the slightest bit uncomfortable, review. Consult with your fellow officers and HOSA Headquarters before you hit the send or post button if unsure.
4. Act with discretion: Information you are entrusted with, including inside information, confidential personnel matters, and sensitive information from internal meetings, are all considered "off the record."
5. Be present: With all the virtual interacting, don't forget to be present in your immediate surroundings! While serving as the public voice and face of HOSA wherever you are, you are setting an example for other HOSA members and displaying HOSA to the world. Texas HOSA sites should not "like", "follow" "join" or "tag" sites or individuals outside of our organization to prevent displaying inappropriate content.
6. Unity: Texas HOSA Area and State social media accounts will reflect unified posts supporting decisions and statements put forth by the International HOSA Headquarters.

For Posts on Behalf of HOSA-Future Health Professionals on your Personal Accounts:

1. Disclose your Affiliation: You are an important ambassador for HOSA-Future Health Professionals, and for the sake of transparency, please disclose this information on your social media sites. How you disclose will depend on the platform, but the disclosure should be clear. For example, listing the title, organization, and responsibilities of your position within Texas HOSA. On all personal social media accounts, where you indicate you are a representative of Texas HOSA, you must abide by all social media policies stated in this contract.

2. Use official statements: When you see posts or receive messages on topics that require subject matter expertise, avoid the temptation to respond to these directly unless you respond with approved messaging Texas HOSA has prepared for those topics.
3. Gain permission: Before posting someone else's work, please check with the owner first. For example, if another person has posted a picture of a local HOSA event and you would like to highlight it on your page, please first ask the original poster if it would be okay to share their photo and content. Always remember to credit and tag appropriately.
4. Share and Link content: Link to content published online, when possible. Share all relevant and interesting HOSA information and news.
5. Respect exclusive material: This includes information such as keynote speaker for conferences and other information. Texas HOSA-Future Health Professionals must have the opportunity to publish text, photo and video material officially before it appears on personal social networks. Once published, you can share on your own platforms.
6. Engage thoughtfully: You are encouraged to share and like all material posted by official Texas and International HOSA-Future Health Professional accounts. Be thoughtful and engaging with followers in your comments on official HOSA-branded posts.
7. Strive for accuracy: Take a moment to think about what you are posting (both personally and professionally) before you hit the publish/post button.
 - a. Think about the content: is it relevant and topical?
 - b. Are you reviewing and maintaining the content you provide online on a regular basis?
 - c. Proofread for spelling and grammar.
 - d. Be aware of what you say and of your connections on social media networks.

Personal Interactions Online as an Officer:

1. Accept, but Don't Initiate: Texas HOSA Officers should not issue friend requests to HOSA members. It is fine if members want to initiate the friend process. Only accept requests from those you know and feel comfortable with.
2. Nothing is Private, Everything is Public: Remember any response made online could go public. Email, chats, and direct/text messages may feel like private communications but may easily find their way to the public.
3. Reach Out: In the case of any issue or question related to Texas HOSA-Future Health Professionals online, refer to your Texas HOSA President, Texas HOSA Officer Coordinator, or Texas HOSA Headquarters for counsel.
4. Add your Fellow Officers and Advisors: Connect on all social media sites.

At Texas HOSA Headquarters' discretion, you would be required to take down social media posts if deemed in violation of this policy.

In summary, explore ways social media can help you serve Texas HOSA-Future Health Professionals in the best way possible. Before posting, however, consider how what you are doing will reflect on your professionalism and our collective reputation.
